The major theme of this year's symposium will continue our legacy of our last year's successful event on Translational Medicine: The Clinical aspect and clinical trials of translational medicine in Perioperative and Pain Medicine. We are honoured to have Dr. Daniel Sessler give the keynote presentation on clinical studies. Dr. Daniel Sessler is the current department chair of the outcome research at the Cleveland Clinic; He is one of the very few anesthesiologists published premium clinical studies in New England Journal of Medicine. His work on body temperature and perioperative outcome changed our practice permanently and maintenance of body temperature is one of key daily practices in perioperative medicine; also the recent POISE 2 studies on perioperative use of aspirin and clonidine.

The tentative agenda as follows:

- 12:15-12:45 Open Ceremony and Greeting: Zhongcong Xie (President of ICAA), Jane Fitch (President of ICAA), more to be announced
